PUBLICATION AGREEMENT

To:

The Berkeley-Haas Case Series (Publisher) is pleased to undertake the publication of your case (and related teaching notes) currently entitled: “_____” (the “Contribution”).

We ask you to assign the copyright to The Regents of the University of California (University), thus granting us all rights for the Contribution, so that you as author and we as publisher may be protected from the consequences of unauthorized use. You will have the right, however, after publication, to reprint the Contribution without charge in any book of which you are the author or editor. Accordingly, the following terms of publication are submitted for your consideration.

Copyright Assignment. Whereas by the authority of The Regents of the University of California, the Publisher is undertaking to publish the Contribution named above, and whereas you desire to have the Contribution so published, now therefore you grant and assign the entire copyright for the Contribution to the University for its exclusive use. The copyright consists of any and all rights of whatever kind or nature now or hereafter protected by the copyright laws of the United States and of all foreign countries, in all languages and forms of communication, and the University shall be the sole proprietor thereof. The University, in turn grants to you the right to reprint the Contribution in any book of which you are the author or editor, subject to your giving proper credit in the book to the original publication of the Contribution by the Publisher. To protect the copyright in the Contribution, the copyright notice as it appears when originally published should be included in the credit.

Warranty: You warrant that the Contribution is original with you; that it contains no matter which is defamatory or is otherwise unlawful or which invades individual privacy or infringes any proprietary right or any statutory copyright; and you agree to indemnify and hold the University and the Publisher, its licensees, and its distributees harmless from any claim, action, or proceeding alleging facts that constitute a breach of any warranty enumerated in this paragraph, and further agree to indemnify the University and others against expenses and attorney’s fees that may be incurred in defense against each claim, action, or proceeding. Further, you warrant that you have the right to assign the copyright to the University and that no portion of the copyright to the Contribution has been assigned previously. It is understood that the copyright to the Contribution has not been registered with the Library of Congress, but that in the event such registration has taken place you will promptly transfer the copyright to the University.

Previous Publication and Permission: You warrant that the Contribution has not been published elsewhere in whole or in part and that no agreement to publish is outstanding. Should the Contribution contain material which requires written permission for inclusion in the Contribution, such permission shall be obtained at your own expense from the copyright proprietor and submitted for review to the Managing Editor of the Berkeley-Haas Case Series with the case.

Proofhandling: You will be given an opportunity to read and correct the edited manuscript and/or proofs, but if you fail to return them to the editor of the Berkeley-Haas Case Series by the date set by the editor, production and publication may proceed without your corrections.

Subsidiary Rights and Compensation: It is understood that you will receive no monetary compensation from the University for the assignment of copyright and publication of the Contribution. You will receive no monetary compensation for other licenses which may be granted for the use of your Contribution. Then you will receive twenty free reprints of the Contribution. You hereby agree to notify the Publisher of any change of address for you subsequent to the signing of this Agreement.

If the foregoing terms are satisfactory, please sign and date this agreement. Please return one copy to the publications editor immediately and retain the other copy for your own files.
